

Nanaimo songstress records "Lisa's Song"

The family of Tla-o-qui-aht's Lisa Young, who has been missing since June, is hoping to keep her memory alive through a song written by Nanaimo songstress Allison Crowe.

Lisa's father Don Young, along with her grandfather Moses Martin have been handing out copies of Lisa's Song, which Crowe performed at a vigil for Lisa Marie Young last December.

Young says he understands that memories fade with time, and he's hoping that hearing the song will ensure that his daughter isn't forgotten. He hopes that one day he'll learn of her fate.

"You just learn to live with the pain. There's nothing else you can do," he says.

Copies of Lisa's Song have been given to local radio stations, who have promised to give it air time.

Lisa Young, 21, has been missing since June 30. The Nanaimo woman was last seen leaving a Nanaimo house party with a man driving a burgundy Jaguar.

Nanaimo RCMP say there is nothing new to report in the case.

HELP!

My Granddaughter, Lisa Young has been missing from Nanaimo since June 29th, 2002. We are extremely worried!

If you have any Information please call me (250) 725-2765 or her parents Don & Joanne Young at (250) 758-2037 or her Uncle RCMP Constable Mike Martin at (250) 838-0703 or the Nanaimo RCMP at (250) 754-2345. Thank You. Chief Councillor Moses Martin, Tla-o-qui-aht First Nations.

BACKGROUND INFORMATION

Lisa is 21 years old and was last seen in Nanaimo June 29th about 2:00am leaving the Jungle Cabaret. She is a member of Tla-o-qui-aht First Nations and dearly missed by her family! We are afraid someone has taken her with dangerous intentions. PLEASE HELP!

"This is a real concern to us and our people," said Moses Martin. "It is real important to stress to the younger generation the importance of looking after family so this won't ever happen again."

Nanaimo songstress records "Lisa's Song"

Ha-Shilth-Sa - Thursday January 16, 2003

The family of Tla-o-qui-aht's Lisa Young, who has been missing since June, is hoping to keep her memory alive through a song written by Nanaimo songstress Allison Crowe.

Lisa's father Don Young, along with her grandfather Moses Martin have been handing out copies of Lisa's Song, which Crowe performed at a vigil for Lisa Marie Young last December.

Young says he understands that memories fade with time, and he's hoping that hearing the song will ensure that his daughter isn't forgotten. He hopes that one day he'll learn of her fate. "You just learn to live with the pain, there's nothing else you can do," he says.

Copies of Lisa's Song have been given to local radio stations, who have promised to give it airtime. Lisa Young, 21, has been missing since June 30. The Nanaimo woman was last seen leaving a Nanaimo house party with a man driving a burgundy Jaguar.

Nanaimo RCMP say there is nothing new to report in the case.

HELP!

My granddaughter Lisa Young has been missing from Nanaimo since June 29th, 2002. We are extremely worried!

If you have any information please call me (250) 725-2765 or her parents Don & Joanne Young at (250) 758-2037 or her Uncle RCMP Constable Mike Martin at (250) 838-0703 or the Nanaimo RCMP at (250) 754-2345. Thank You. Chief Councillor Moses Martin, Tla-o-qui-aht First Nations.

BACKGROUND INFORMATION

Lisa is 21 years old and was last seen in Nanaimo June 29th about 2:00am leaving the Jungle Cabaret.

She is a member of Tla-o-qui-aht First Nations and dearly missed by her family! We are afraid someone has taken her with dangerous intentions, PLEASE HELP!

"This is a real concern to us and our people," said Moses Martin. "It is real important to stress to the younger generation the importance of looking after family so this won't ever happen again."

<https://lisamarieyoung.ca/n/hss20030116>

https://issuu.com/hashilthsa/docs/01_january_16_2003/11

https://web.archive.org/web/20240110202544/https://issuu.com/hashilthsa/docs/01_january_16_2003/11

© Copyrighted material including media excerpts are reproduced/reproducible, with attribution to the author, under Copyright Act of Canada s.29.2: "Fair dealing for the purpose of news reporting".